

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million (13.5% of the population).

There are a number of reasons why the number of people aged 65 and over has increased. One of the main reasons is that people are living longer. The life expectancy at birth in the UK is now 78 years for men and 82 years for women.

Another reason is that people are having children later in life. This means that there are more people aged 65 and over who have children who are still alive.

There are also a number of reasons why the number of people aged 65 and over is expected to increase in the future. One of the main reasons is that people are living even longer.

NOTE.

At a meeting of the First Church, Dorchester, held July, 1888, it was voted to print the first manuscript volume of the Church Records, 1636-1734. The pastor (Rev. C. R. Eliot), Rev. S. J. Barrows, William B. Trask, and the deacons (Henry Humphreys, Hiram Clapp, and Richard C. Humphreys), were appointed a Committee upon editing. The work of transcribing the Records was intrusted to Rev. Charles H. Pope, that of writing the Introduction to Rev. S. J. Barrows and Mr. William B. Trask.

INTRODUCTION.

THE First Church of Dorchester was formed in England by the great historic forces which sowed the seed of Puritanism on the shores of Massachusetts Bay. The "Mary and John" which brought the first company of our Dorchester settlers was the second of the seventeen ships which sailed from England to America in 1629-30. The one hundred and forty* emigrants who embarked on this vessel at Plymouth March 20, 1629-30,† were gathered for the most part from Devon, Dorset, and Somersetshire. Before setting sail from England, a church organization was formed with due solemnity, and ministers were chosen. This event is thus described by one of their number, Mr. Roger Clap, in the memoir left for his children:—

"There came many Godly Families in that Ship: We were of Passengers many in number (besides Sea-men) of good Rank: Two of our Magistrates came with us, viz. Mr. Rossiter and Mr. Ludlow. These Godly People resolved to live together; and therefore as they had made choice of those two Revd. Servants of God, Mr. John Warham and Mr. John Maverick to be their Ministers, so they kept a solemn Day of Fasting in the New Hospital in Plymouth in England, spending it in Preaching and Praying: where that worthy Man of God, Mr. John White of Dorchester in Dorset was present, and preached unto us the Word of God, in the fore-part of the Day, and in the latter part of the Day as the people did solemnly make Choice of, and call those godly Ministers to be their Officers, so also the Revd. Mr. Warham and Mr. Maverick did accept thereof, and expressed the same. So we came, by the good Hand of the Lord, through the Deeps comfortably; having Preaching or Expounding of the Word of God every Day for Ten Weeks together, by our Ministers." (Memoirs of Roger Clap, p. 39.)

* John White says: "There passed away about 140 persons out of the western parts from Plimmouth." (Force's Tracts: Vol. II. John White's "Planter's Plea," p. 35.) Winthrop, writing to his wife from aboard the "Arbella," March 28, 1630, says, "The ship which went from Plimouth carried about 140 persons." (Savage's "Winthrop," 1st Ed. 1825. p. 368.)

† The dates throughout are given in old style.

The "Mary and John" arrived at Nantasket May 30, 1630. A few days later the passengers had effected a settlement at Dorchester, being thus about a month earlier than the rest of the Winthrop Colony. On June 6, the first Sunday after the landing, services of gratitude and praise were held under the open sky.* And this day, which commemorates the planting in the wilderness of the church organized in Plymouth, England, is coincident also with the settlement of the town.

It is not possible to make a complete list of the passengers of the "Mary and John." Nor is it possible to give the names of those who constituted the first membership of the church on its organization in England or on its establishment in Dorchester. Prior to 1636 no records of the church are extant. Such names of the first church members as can be discovered must be gathered from other sources.

The records of the town begin Jan. 16, 1632-33.† Two missing leaves probably contained its proceedings from 1630. A list of the male settlers of the town, whose names appear scattered through its pages prior to Aug. 23, 1636, comprises one hundred and forty-five names. Of these many came in 1633 on a ship from Weymouth, England, which brought about eighty passengers, who, Winthrop ‡ says, settled at Dorchester. It is not easy always to distinguish the settlers of 1630 mentioned on the town records from those of 1633 or later dates, nor is it possible to say with absolute certainty who of these were church members. The date of application for freemanship is a partial guide, since, after May 18, 1631, persons who became freemen of Massachusetts Bay Colony were required to be members of a church. The order requiring this was passed at a General Court held at Boston on the date above and reads "& to the end the body of the comons may be p'served of honest & good men, it was likewise ordered and agreed that for time to come noe man shalbe admitted to the freedome of this body polliticke, but such as are members of some of the churches within the lymitts of the same."

Among the first group of men who applied for this privilege Oct. 19, 1630, seven months before the passage of this order, are thirteen names of Dorchester people. Five of these names — John Crabb, Christopher Gibson, Mr. Ralph Glover, Mr. Richard Southcoate, and Mr. Thomas Southcoate — are not entered subsequently as having taken the oath, but the name of Gibson occurs later on the church records. After the passage of the order referred to, it is safe and, indeed, necessary to assume that all those made freemen were members of the church.

* There are two of these names, John Hoskins, 1631 and 1634, and Thomas Rawlins, 1631 and 1635-36. There is a strong probability that they both belong to Dorchester; but we cannot be certain.

† This was not the more famous man who bore the same name.

In those days migrations and transmigrations were common. Dorchester took and gave with the rest. We have seen that the membership of the church was swelled by arrivals subsequent to that of the "Mary and John." Exchanges were also made between the towns. The names of some of the early settlers can be traced in the records of other towns to which they soon after removed. It was not to be expected that the dauntless enterprise which had brought the Puritans to these shores would permit them to remain on the fringe of the coast. The "Westward Ho" spirit early showed itself in organized as well as individual migration. One of the earliest, largest, and most important of these migrations from Dorchester occurred in 1635-36, when a large portion of the population removed to Connecticut and settled at Windsor. This colonial swarming reduced the original hive, a goodly number of the church members going with the junior pastor, Mr. Warham, to Windsor, and becoming the nucleus of another church in that place.

The depletion caused by the migration to Connecticut, as well as the influx of new colonists in 1635, led to the reorganization of the Dorchester Church, when Richard Mather was called to its pastorate in 1636, and the covenant with which this volume begins was adopted.

As many of the first members who came in the "Mary and John" went to Windsor, the question has been raised whether the church in Dorchester or the First Church in Windsor, Conn., is the proper heir of the church gathered in Plymouth, England. Since it is beyond doubt that both churches were essentially derived from the same historical root, both may rightfully and fraternally claim to be children of the same parentage. The question of ecclesiastical primogeniture is not here intrinsically important. Any facts, however, which show the original relation of the two churches to each other and to the parent church organized in England are interesting and valuable. More light is needed on various points. Dogmatism must be dismissed. The early settlers hardly imagined how much every scrap of information concerning their doings would be prized in later days, or they would have taken pains to anticipate our doubts and questionings.

Three questions are naturally suggested by the emigration to Windsor of so large a number of the Dorchester plantation. First, did the church go to Windsor by an official act as a church organization? Second, what proportion of the church membership went? Third, what was meant by a "new church" in Dorchester?

I. DID THE CHURCH GO TO WINDSOR BY AN OFFICIAL ACT AS A CHURCH ORGANIZATION?

The only conclusive evidence on this point would be the records of the church previous to 1635. These, as has been said, are not extant. What action the church took, or whether it took any, is therefore not known. The subject of the emigration to Connecticut excited heated and prolonged debate in the colonial government.* Urgently advocated on one side, it was vehemently opposed on the other. The division most probably extended to the Dorchester church also. At least it is suggested by the fact that the church membership did not go as a unit. A part went to Windsor, a part remained in Dorchester.

In examining the question, care must be taken to distinguish between the church acting as a church organization and the simple body of church members acting individually or fraternally. The distinction was not carefully made by the early New England historians. This has led to misconception and misapplication of their words by later writers. Winthrop, Thomas Shepard, and Richard Mather were contemporaries of the first settlers. Winthrop, in his Journal, vol. i. 183, 1636, says, "Mr. Mather and others of Dorchester, intending to begin a new church there (a great part of the old one being gone to Connecticut), desired the approbation of the other churches and of the magistrates." It is clear from Winthrop's statement that a new church organization was formed in Dorchester. He does not say, however, that the Dorchester church, as a church, had gone to Connecticut. His language, "a great part of the old one being gone to Connecticut," refers apparently to the colony of church members. Had the church taken formal action and gone as an organization, we should suppose that Winthrop would have mentioned it. His reticence gives color to the probability already assumed, that the controversy about the emigration shattered and divided the original organization.

Rev. Thomas Shepard, of Newtown, now Cambridge, was also present at the council in Dorchester, April 1, 1636, mentioned by

* Savage's "Winthrop," vol. i. 140.

Winthrop. He was one of those who were not satisfied with the qualifications of some who presented themselves for approval at that gathering. He publicly expressed his dissent. After returning home, he wrote a letter to Richard Mather, for whom he had a strong personal friendship, endeavoring to console him upon his failure to secure the approbation of the magistrates and the neighboring churches. There is nothing in this letter which throws light on the question whether the Windsor emigrants went forth as an organized church or not, unless it be the assumption of the need of a new church in Dorchester, and the use of the expression a "foundation for a church," as if it were wholly a new structure. (Albro's Life of Shepard, p. 215, et seq. Original in library of Massachusetts Historical Society.)

In his reply to this letter, Richard Mather, with warm affection and deep humility, reciprocates the kindly feeling of Mr. Shepard. He regrets the bringing of "stones so unhammered and unhewn," evidently referring to the new immigrants. Only one passage in his letter has significance with reference to the point we are considering. It is the following: "But you will say, Why, then, did you present yourself with the people before the Lord and the churches? I will tell you the truth therein. They pressed me into it with much importunity, and so did others also, till I was ashamed to deny any longer, and laid it on me as a thing to which I was bound in conscience to assent; because, if I yielded not to join, there would be, said they, no church at all in this place, and so a tribe, as it were, should perish out of Israel, and all through my default." (Albro's Life of Shepard, p. 219. Original in library of Massachusetts Historical Society.) While Shepard treats the matter as if it were a new foundation, Mr. Mather's words seem to imply that a church or tribe already existing would perish unless he yielded to their importunities to come to them. A large portion of the church membership had gone to Windsor with one of its pastors. The pastor remaining in Dorchester had died. The flock was scattered and without a shepherd. These may have been strong arguments in the importunity which induced Mr. Mather to yield.*

*It is interesting to note that between the leaves of the letter of Thomas Shepard to Richard Mather of April 2, 1636, in the library of the Massachusetts Historical Society, and what is apparently a copy by Mr. Shepard of Mr.

Increase Mather, in the life of his father, Richard, referring to the same event, says, "The church which was first planted in that place, being removed with the Reverend Mr. Warham to Connecticut, there was an Essay towards Gathering a church April 1, 1636." (Life and Death of Rev. Richard Mather, edition of 1850, p. 73.) The natural assumption from Increase Mather's words is that the church went as a church. Yet we cannot be sure that he did not mean simply the body of church members. William Hubbard, 1682, says: "The first attempt of gathering any church in the year 1636 was at Dorchester on the first of April, when the former pastor and most of the old church being removed to Connecticut, Mr. Richard Mather, with several Christians that came along with him out of Lancashire, having settled their habitations there, and intending to begin a new church, desired the approbation of the magistrates, and of the neighboring churches," etc. (General History of New England, p. 273.) Hubbard, like Winthrop, is explicit in the expression "most of the old church being removed to Connecticut." He evidently refers to the body of church members. If the church took any organic action, it is not alluded to.

Cotton Mather in 1702 simply follows his father Increase, saying, "The church formerly planted there being transplanted with Mr. Warham to Connecticut, another church was now gathered here Aug. 23, 1636, by whose choice Mr. Mather was now become their teacher." (Magnalia, vol. i. p. 450, Life of Richard Mather, Hartford Edition, 1853.)

Mather's reply, are found two pages of memoranda, possibly the outline of a sermon; and between these, without word or comment, are written the following twenty-one names: Mr. [Nathaniel] Duncan; John Grenaway; Richard Callacott; William Rockwell; John Holman; Bernard Capen; Richard Wade; Thomas Dimmock; Robert Deeble; John Pope; John Phillips; John Benham; William Hannum; John Capen; Nicholas Upsall; Thomas Swift; Thomas Deeble; Thomas Millett; Augustine Clement; Thomas Twitchell; John Holland. Nearly all of these names, as will be seen by comparison with the lists herein, are of people then in Dorchester; and most of them had come before Mr. Mather. Others were later arrivals. Two of these names, those of John Holman and Thomas Dimmock, had a line drawn through them. It is impossible to tell just what this memorandum was made for. It may be the names of those who importuned Mr. Mather to settle in Dorchester. Twelve of these names are afterwards found on the church records. It is worth while noticing also that three of these persons (William Rockwell, William Hannum, and Thomas Deeble) afterwards went to Windsor. Did they intend to go when this memorandum was written?

Mr. James Blake, Jr., born April 30, 1688, one of the most accurate and trustworthy of the local historians of Dorchester, says: "Mr. Warham and about a half of the church removed to Windsor in Connecticut Colony. and Mr. Mather and his people came and joined with Mr. Merick and that half of the church that were left, and from these people so united are the greatest part of the present inhabitants descended." (Annals of Dorchester, 1750, p. 14.) The natural inference from his language is that the church did not go to Connecticut as an organization, but rather that the emigration divided the original society.

In strange contrast to Blake's are the words of Governor Hutchinson in 1764: "Mr. Warham, their minister, and the whole church followed the next year." (History of Massachusetts, vol. i. p. 96, edition of 1795.) Hutchinson is thus unquestionably wide of the mark; and many of the later historians have copied his misleading statement, which a reference to Winthrop would have corrected.

Important in its bearing on this subject is the manuscript title-page of this the first and oldest volume of the Dorchester church records. It reads: "Records of the Second church in Dorchester which was gathered after the First Church Removed and settled themselves at Windsor. Beginning August 23 Anno Domini, 1636." It must be carefully noted, however, that this title-page is not a part of the original records, but a later addition made some eighty years thereafter, probably by Rev. John Danforth, who appears to have taken charge of the book on the death of Deacon Daniel Preston in 1695. Here, again, the question arises, Does Mr. Danforth refer to the church membership as removed and settled at Windsor or to the church as an organization? Probably on the title-page no attempt is made to state all the facts, but simply to indicate that the new or Second Church was numerically the successor of the first. Yet the wording of the title-page, though written by a later hand, gives strong color and support to the yet unverified surmise that the church went to Windsor as a church organization.

As will be seen, however, from previous quotations, so loosely is the word "church" used by writers of the time, and so often without any distinction between the church as an organization and the church as a congregation of individual worshippers, that it would not be safe to adopt one signification as wholly exclusive of the other.

The question, therefore, as to whether the church at Windsor went as a church organization can be decisively answered, it would seem, only by recovering its original records. There is little hope of finding these ancient records either in Windsor or in Dorchester. On the one hand, it is assumed that they were taken by Mr. Warham to Connecticut; on the other, that they remained with the senior pastor of the church, Mr. Maverick, in Dorchester. It is not impossible, however, since manuscripts vastly older have been by good fortune exhumed from obscurity, that the missing records may some day be brought to light. Should this good fortune occur, on no point will they be examined with more interest than on this one concerning what action, if any, the church took in the heated controversy relating to the emigration. Until such decisive evidence is produced, we may accept the judgment of a former editor of the Puritan Recorder, now Congregationalist (presumably Rev. Parsons Cooke, D.D., of Lynn, Mass.), who said, in 1855, "Whether the Windsor church removing from Dorchester, removed in an organized capacity, that it voted in church meeting to remove as a church, and carried with them their church records, formally dismissing those left behind, and continuing to keep their records as the same church, more light is required. As to the evidence produced by Mr. Jabez H. Hayden, in his very acceptable article, it proves clearly that another church was organized at Dorchester. Of this we were well aware; but the expression 'a large part of the old one being gone to Connecticut' would seem to indicate that the church itself did not go. The difficulty about all the documents relating to this subject is that the writers seem to have treated the question as to the preservation of the original organization as a matter of little consequence; while they state the fact of the removal, and so use expressions which may be construed either way." (Stiles's History of Windsor, 864.) Whether that portion of the church which went to Windsor was formally reorganized or not after settlement there is not known.

II. WHAT PROPORTION OF THE MEMBERSHIP WENT TO WINDSOR?

From the quotations already given from early historians, it will be seen that their language was sometimes misleading on this subject. Thus Hutchinson says, "The whole church went to Connecticut"; and the same might be inferred by a modern reader unacquainted with the facts from the language of Increase Mather and Cotton Mather, his son. They give no indication that even a part of the old church remained in Dorchester. Nor does the manuscript title of this volume of the church records already quoted and ascribed to Rev. John Danforth give any intimation that a part of the old church remained in Dorchester. Even Dr. Thaddeus Mason Harris, one of the most honored and learned of the pastors in the Dorchester succession, in an early article on the history of the First Church, failed to make this distinction. Dr. Harris said, "Their whole church and most of the congregation determined upon going." (Massachusetts Historical Society Collections, First Series, vol. ix. p. 153.) This mistake may have been derived from Hutchinson. However that may be, twenty-six years afterwards, Dr. Harris took pains to correct his error. In a sermon delivered on the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the church, held July 4, 1830, he says, "Some of the first comers still remained here," and again, "A number of church members remained," thus materially qualifying his previous language and referring to the remainder as the nucleus of the reorganized church.

Of the older historians, Hubbard and Winthrop are more accurate, the former saying "most of the old church being removed to Connecticut," and the latter saying "a great part of the old one being gone." James Blake, Jr., is also careful and explicit on this point.

Fortunately, we are not dependent wholly upon surmises or loose statements, either ancient or modern, concerning the proportion of the Dorchester people who went to Windsor. A study of the early town records throws some light on the question.

The first emigration to Windsor took place October, 1635. It was continued in the spring of 1636. We have already given a list of those who were made freemen and who were therefore necessarily church members from the passage of the law imposing this requirement May 18, 1631, to Aug. 23, 1636, the date at which the church records begin. We now present the same list of freemen, arranged chronologically with reference to their date of admission to freemanship, and giving also the date on which their names last appeared in the town records. Of those who remained subsequent to 1640 it is so stated.

This list comprises 84 names. So many, at least, we may assume were members of the church. We cannot say that they were the only members. Undoubtedly there were some who joined the church who are not recorded as freemen. Thus, taking the names of church members entered on the church records previous to Nov. 4, 1639, we find that, out of 60 names, 17 of them were not freemen at that time. Of these, 7 were subsequently admitted to freemanship; but 10 are not found on the lists of freemen. It is not improbable that they may have been sworn in, and no record made of the fact. We may therefore assume that there were other church members previous to 1636 who were not recorded as freemen; but how large a number we cannot tell. The 84 names we have given, however, are not a matter of conjecture, but of record. Turning again to the town records, we find that out of these 84 names, all of whom must be regarded as church members, 35 were in Dorchester up to the 1st of January, 1637-38. The following are the 35 names derived from the list above:—

Such action, if any, as was taken by the church must have been taken between the fall of 1635 and the spring of 1636, when the larger body of colonists went. Of these 35 persons, 7 are supposed to have gone to Windsor between 1637 and 1640. It would be unsafe to assume that they decided to go to Windsor when the larger body of colonists went. They may have gone as individuals, to join the colonists who had preceded them. Nor can we assume that all those persons whose names are not found on the town records later than 1634-35 went to Windsor. Some of them are known to have gone to other places. Of others nothing is known, except that they disappeared at an early date. We must guard, therefore, against concluding that all those who left Dorchester between 1634 and 1637, went to Windsor. Matthew Grant mentions but 15 names as having come up with the church from Dorchester.

Laying aside conjecture and appealing to the records, we find that of 145 male inhabitants mentioned on the town records prior to Aug. 23, 1636, the date of the reorganization of the church, 35 of that number appear on the records on or after Jan. 1, 1637-38. These 35 are recorded as freemen, and must have been members of the church. In other words, when the church was reorganized under Richard Mather in 1636, there were, as far as can be ascertained in Dorchester, about 35 persons who were church members at that time, 7 of whom afterwards went to Windsor. Of the 28 persons remaining, all but 4 were admitted to freemanship before the arrival of Richard Mather, Aug. 17, 1635, and were thus members of the church before its reorganization. In the list above only male names appear, because only males were admitted to freemanship. It would be difficult to compile a list of the women who went or remained.

Thus it will be seen that the whole church membership did not go to Connecticut or elsewhere, and that there was a sufficient number of members in Dorchester to preserve the continuity of the church life.

Of the 28 persons enumerated, 19 are found on these records as members of the reorganized church. Three of these signed the covenant in 1636. Others owned the covenant on dates between 1636 and 1639; one in 1640, one in 1644. Roger Clap and Richard Collacott are recognized as members, but are not recorded as owning or signing the covenant.

The question how many of the original members of the church formed at Plymouth, England, and who came over in the "Mary and John," went to Windsor cannot be definitely answered. It is a question of subordinate interest, because the membership of the church was re-enforced by arrivals from England up to the year 1635. Deacon Ebenezer Clapp, for twenty-five years a deacon of the First Church, and an industrious and indefatigable student of the history of the church and town, undertook before his death in 1881 investigations on this point. Unfortunately, however, we have no complete or trustworthy record of the names of all the passengers who came in the "Mary and John," nor can we say, except in certain cases, who of them were church members. Any such list must be hypothetical. It will be of interest, however, to mention the conclusions reached by Deacon Clapp, although he did not present them as authoritative or final. His list of supposed passengers by the "Mary and John" comprised 59 names. The number of emigrants whom he traced to Windsor was 50. Of these, 30, he supposed, came over in the "Mary and John," and 20 were later arrivals. Subtracting the 30 identified as going to Windsor, we have 29 names remaining, or about one-half of the original number of male passengers, according to this hypothetical list. Of these 29 who did not join the Windsor company, 11 died or removed to other places or returned to England, leaving 18 of the original company in Dorchester. But, as we have remarked above, the important question is not how many of those who went to Windsor came over in the "Mary and John," but rather how many of the enlarged roll of church members in 1635-36 emigrated or remained. On this point the names and figures we have given from the town records furnish the most reliable data.

III. WHAT WAS MEANT BY A NEW CHURCH IN DORCHESTER?

Reverting to the authorities already quoted, we are struck by the diversity of expression in regard to the reorganized church. Winthrop says "a new church was gathered." Increase Mather says "a church was constituted." Hubbard, following Winthrop, though he mistakes the date, says "another church"; while Blake simply says that, when "these two companies of people were thus united, they made one church." The difference of expression shows that accurate and technical definition was not intended by these writers. The circumstances attending the formation of this "new church" were peculiar. When we examine them, we see that the "new church" designated by Winthrop could not mean a new church in the sense in which that term applies to such churches as have never had any previous existence. From the language of Winthrop, three things are at once evident: first, that there had been a church in Dorchester; second, that a part of it had gone to Windsor; third, that it was necessary to reconstitute or amalgamate the old and the new material which remained.

The adoption of the new covenant was a new epoch, but it is not in itself a conclusive sign of an entirely new organization. The Dorchester church made a new covenant in 1842, but this marked only another epoch in its existence.

Another important fact must not be forgotten: it was not the going away of the Windsor emigrants alone that rendered reorganization necessary. The coming in of a fresh element and the selection of a new pastor were important factors. If no new element had arrived while the Windsor emigration was going on, it is doubtful if the church would have needed reorganization. But in those days only a church member could become a freeman. It was necessary that church order should be closely observed. The rise of Antinomianism about this time, of which Shepard (who did much to produce the stay of proceedings April, 1636) was a determined opponent, excited new vigilance and caution. The general disturbance produced by the influx and efflux of settlers also unsettled the Dorchester plantation, and made church reorganization necessary. This was the view taken, after mature study, by Dr. Harris, who said: "As a number of church members remained, and the place of those that had left had been in a good degree supplied by new emigrants, they agreed to call an ecclesiastical council to assist in constituting them in church order, with proper officers. It convened on the 1st of April, 1636; but, 'the messengers of the churches not being satisfied concerning the qualifications of some that were proposed as members, the work was deferred.' On the 23d of August following, a church was reorganized, 'with the approbation of the elders and magistrates.'"*

* Discourse of Rev. Thaddeus Mason Harris, D.D., delivered July 4, 1830, p. 14.

This is also the view of a former editor of the Boston Recorder, who said: "It is true that both here and at Cambridge, after the removal of some of the first settlers to Connecticut with their ministers, another organization of the church was had. For new emigrants had come in and purchased the houses and lands of those emigrants to Connecticut; and so great was the change of people that there would be occasion for the reconstruction of the church, whether the people who left went in an organized body or were organized anew in their new field."

One point must not be overlooked. There is no indication that by the Windsor emigration religious services were suspended in Dorchester. The emigrants to Windsor did not go all at once. The first party went in October, 1635, others not until the spring of 1636, while others did not go until two or three years after the reorganization of the church. But how small a gap there was between the corporate life of the old church and that of the reorganized church is seen when we compare dates. It must not be overlooked that the senior pastor of the church, Mr. Maverick, did not go to Windsor. Whether he had any intention of doing so is not known; but, at any rate, he died on the 3d of February, 1635-36. Mather, importuned to come to Dorchester, must have consented as early as March, though the council was not called until April, and he was not finally settled until August. Blake says, "Mr. Mather and his people came and joined with Mr. Maverick." So far as the blending of the people is concerned, he is right. If we are to understand from these words that Maverick and Mather were contemporaneous pastors of the renewed church, he is wrong. But, if Blake meant that Maverick and Mather had both ministered to the amalgamated congregation before the ecclesiastical council, it is very probable. Although the council was not held until April, Mather had come from England with his party nine months before. Many of his people immediately took the places of those who went to Windsor. Mather's arrival was six months before Maverick's death. It is therefore probable that he preached some time for the Dorchester people during the continuance of Mr. Maverick's pastorate. But, leaving out probabilities, one fact is conclusive: that the gap between Maverick's death in February and the calling of the council and reorganization of the church under Mather in April was only two months, and to the final reorganization seven months. During this time the meeting-house was, no doubt, opened every Sunday for religious service; and the continuity of the church service probably remained unbroken, though the ordinances may not have been administered.

Some of those who signed the new covenant were undoubtedly passengers in the "Mary and John." Were they all members of the original church? This we cannot positively say. Not all who came in the "Mary and John" joined the church before sailing. Roger Clap, for instance, did not join it until after it was established in Dorchester; and it is worthy of note that he did not sign the new church covenant. Nevertheless, he was recognized as a member of the church of Dorchester for many years after the reorganization. Blake says, "He continued a member of this church for the space of sixty years." Another case is that of Richard Collacott. He was admitted to freemanship March 4, 1632-33, and was thus one of the early residents and church members before the Windsor emigration began. There is no record of his ever having owned the covenant of the reorganized church or of having been formally admitted. But the proof of his membership appears on the church records Jan. 13, 1660, when we read that Richard Collacott and his wife were dismissed to join the new church at Boston. Thus it seems that the early membership of these persons was not abrogated by the Connecticut emigration and did not need to be renewed. If this was the case with Roger Clap and Richard Collacott, it was possibly the case with others of the first members, though most preferred to own the new covenant. Among those who did this prior to 1639 was Nicholas Clapp, who came to Dorchester in 1633, and may have been a member of the church before the reorganization, though he is not found among the list of freemen. There were possibly others, as has been suggested, who may have been members and not freemen, and whose names would swell the list we have made.

The oldest religious societies in Massachusetts, the Dorchester church among them, are dual organizations, consisting of church and parish. The discussion concerning the continuity of the church does not affect in any way the continuity of the parish. It is worth while to note that, under Massachusetts law as it is at present interpreted, the body of church members who went to Windsor ceased to be a church when they separated from the Dorchester parish. The decision in the famous Dedham case is familiar. "It was laid down that a church separating from a parish for any cause loses its existence, and that never in Massachusetts had a church a legal existence apart from the parish." It is not necessary to review or discuss the justice of this decision. There is no occasion to appeal to it in this case. It is simply sufficient to say that, according to Massachusetts law as at present interpreted, the party that remained with the church in Dorchester in 1636 became, through its connection with the parish, successors to all property, rights, and titles of the original church.

CONCLUSION.

The following points may be deduced from the above examination:—

1. That the whole church membership did not go to Windsor, but only a part of it. This is supported by the testimony of Winthrop, Blake, Hubbard, and a careful study of early records as to the number of those who left and those who remained.

2. Whether the Windsor party went as a church organization or simply as a colony of fellow church members is not known. Both views have been maintained: the decisive evidence is lacking. The editor of the Boston Recorder truly says: "The difficulty about all the documents relating to this subject is that the writers seem to have treated the question as to the preservation of the original organization as a matter of little consequence, while they state the fact of the removal, and so use expressions which may be construed either way."

3. The new church in Dorchester was an amalgamation of old and new elements, partly due to the departure of early members and partly to the arrival of new material. The probability is that the church was much broken up by the ebb and flow of emigration. This transition period was so serious that reorganization was desirable.

4. The question of continuity does not affect the continuity of the parish. According to Massachusetts law, the First Church and Parish of Dorchester has a clear title for two hundred and sixty years.

5. The historic connection of the Dorchester church with the church formed at Plymouth, England, is direct and unbroken. It is maintained by genetic lines of membership. Some streams of blood from the heart of the Plymouth (England) church still flow in the membership of the church at Dorchester. The present church owes its existence to that immigration; not merely through a parish continuity, but through a continuity of membership and Sabbath meetings and Christian life and work; that is to say, through its life as a church.

6. The churches at Dorchester and Windsor are thus both heirs of the same parentage.

All that has been attempted in this introduction has been to bring together such facts as are now available concerning the period in the history of the church preceding the date of these records, in the hope that future investigators may be able to supplement the facts, and to verify or correct the conclusions.

No analysis of the present volume of records has been attempted. Its publication places it within the range of all students of New England history; and the notes made by the faithful transcriber, Rev. Charles H. Pope, who has shown a deep interest in the work, furnish all the detail necessary for those who have not access to the original manuscript.

The events recorded in this, the oldest existing volume of records, have been the subject of comment and review in sermons preached at Dorchester, by Rev. John Pierce, D.D., of Brookline, Mass., June 17, 1830; by Rev. Thaddeus Mason Harris, D.D., on the 200th anniversary of the church, July 4, 1830; by Rev. Nathaniel Hall, on the 240th anniversary, June 19, 1870; and in the Proceeding of the 250th Anniversary [Boston: Geo. H. Ellis. 1880]. Much interesting and useful matter concerning the church has been published in the History of Dorchester [Boston. 1851]. The story of town and church has also been briefly told in the "Memorial History of Boston."

NOTES OF THE COPYIST.

WHILE the reader is put in possession of the identical spelling and punctuation of the original records, there are a few particulars, which could only be gleaned from close study of the old volume, that ought to be definitely mentioned for the benefit of all who may study this transcription.

First, there are two sets of entries: those beginning with the title-page, and continuing with the Covenant, list of members, and records of meetings; then an altogether separate series, begun at the end of the book, which was turned upside down, wherein baptisms were recorded and afterward a variety of other items. One who is poring over the book for any special purpose needs to take these two sets of entries as, in effect, two parallel books.

Before making this copy, the original was paged continuously through the two parts, so that pages 4 and 169 are contemporaneous, and so on.

Second, it is possible to say pretty nearly when these records were begun. The first dated entry, properly speaking, is that which registers the baptism of Rebecca Wiswall, April 6th, 1639, p. 171, the statements on pp. 169 and 170 being avowed recollections. From this time the baptisms are constantly dated, while the admissions to the church are dated from Nov. 4, 1639 (p. 6). The names of those who signed the Covenant are all in one handwriting, easily identified as that of the "teacher," Mr. Mather, who speaks of himself under that title on p. 173. He is clearly the penman of the chief part of the records for some years; but another hand appears from time to time,—namely, that of Deacon John Wiswall, who gradually took the whole work in charge. His autograph is to be seen on p. 258, disfigured by an altogether different penman's addition of the word "Dea.," which was not transcribed, of course. In 1657-58 Deacon John Capen began to record; but "feb 91/2" another person made affectionate memorandum that he had "ended his work" (p. 136). Next Deacon Preston's marked chirography follows until Oct. 22, 1695. From that point the facile pen of the Rev. John Danforth carries on both parts of the record, till some person not identified completes the volume.

Third, we have a most important succession of annotations on the earliest records, made by one who had excellent opportunities of knowing whereof he wrote. From the beginning of the baptismal entries (p. 169) Mr. Danforth interpolated remarks upon the persons mentioned in the records. These often contain matter of the highest historic-genealogical value. We have printed them in parenthesis, as they are easily distinguished from the few parenthetical remarks of the clerks themselves. It is certain that Mr. Danforth wrote these, both from the writing itself and from several particular entries. Note specially a father's remark on his child's baptism, p. 233; the initials "I. D." after the date 1716 on p. 238; the reference to the "last words in the pastor's hearing," p. 11; and notably the kind and thankful remarks upon the ordination of his colleague on p. 167, where "the aged pastor" breathes such noble thoughts in forms so classical. Mr. Danforth also copied from the town book into the margin of this record the dates of birth of many of the children baptized in the church, his general accuracy in which attests the value of his annotations.

The title-page of the ancient volume was evidently written by Mr. Danforth, probably soon after 1695, when he took charge of the book.

Elder Topliff's list of the localities where the founders of the town had resided (p. 25), made not far from 1700, is a document of great value.

No one who studies this record closely can fail to be impressed with the pure devotion and lofty standards of the Dorchester pilgrims.

mr flints exhortation to the Children of y^e Church taken breifly as he spake it by J C

To y^e seed of y^e Church

first Consider that you are by yo^r beirth taken in to y^e Church as being y^e seed of y^e Church 17 genesis I will be their god & y^e god of their seed after them in their generations hence y^e apostles doe aply that in y^e 2 acts 36 y^e p^rmise is to you & to yo^r seed &c soe y^t it is y^e faithfull & their seed & their Children y^t are called: that is thos that are soe vizibly soe, & upon this they weer baptized & after y^t they weer in comunion with y^e Church

1 Cor 7 14 y^e unbelieving husband is sanctified &c y^t is with federal hollynes, therefore all y^e children of y^e faithful they are borne in y^e Covenant, and this is y^e great p^rveledg of y^e godly, & by this they are distinguished from pagons & heathen

- 2 Consider y^t you have been p^rveledged with y^e means of grace upon this being in y^e Covenant to you belong y^e p^rmisses & you have had saboths & teachings 59 Esa 1 vs. my spirit shall not depart & c y^t is they shall have y^e means of grace. and you have enjoyed all this under a Covenant, this have been yo^r great p^rveledg. therefore beware of shewing any unbeseeming fram of sperit 3 Rom 6 what advantageth y^e Jew & c and if you have been unprofitable under it y^e fault is yours
- 3 Consider y^t you have been baptized; & soe have made a vow & given up yo^r selves unto y^e lord 1 Cor 12 13 therfore Consider how sollemly you ther engaged to owne yo^r union with y^e body of Christ which is his Church
- 4 Consider how great and sollemne p^rfession you are Called upon to make this day, he y^t cannot say that he will not be a shebolith [27] will be noe benjamite this day god requiers y^t you should heer him, & submite yo^rselves unto him, beware therfor of Casting off yo^r subjection to y^e lord Jesus christ. god will receive it in heaven & will Charge it upon such as shall reject it, but I hope better things of you 1 Cor 12 13 noe man calleth Jesus lord but by y^e sperit, therefore thos y^t will not call Christ their lord he have not y^e sperit, let none Count it a small matter to disowne y^e lord Jesus Christ
- 5 Lastly be sure to be sencear doe not put of y^e lord Jesus with a meere formall p^rfession, but say it in y^e sperit be not Children 18 Psal latter end, it was said of david y^t his Children should ly unto him, but god calls for other things 63 Esa 9 therefore look up to god in y^e feare of god for y^e help of his sperit y^t what you profess with with yo^r tongue you may own it sencearly wth your harts

former p^t of this day it being y^e saboth before^r y^e day of humiliation for England, it being shewed to us this day y^t reformation of sinnes is requiered in those y^t come to humble ther soulls before y^e lord:

The 25 of y^e (1) 1660

The day above said was report made by M^r Mather unto the Congregation, of a sad accident y^t was fallen out at Hart-ford, namly of a yong man named Abraham Warner, about

y^e adge of 20 years (who being left of god & prevailed wth by satan) drowned himself in y^e watter, leaveing behind him in his brothers pocket a writting to his father wherein he doe advis his father to look to y^e ways & walkings of his Brother.

M^r Mather uppon this occasion gave an exortation first unto Children to take heed of refusing instruction from ther parents & not to pleass themselves wth this that they weer y^e Children of godly parents as it seems this yong man was And 2 alsoe unto parents to looke to y^e ways & walkings of ther Children & ffamelys aleaging y^e example of Elly &c :

The 13 (3) 1650

This day M^r Mather after the evening exercise desiered to speake a word or two unto y^e Church the substance therof was this viz

first he desiered y^e Church & y^e members of it to take notice: that (as it was a whill since Concluded namly y^e Children of such as are members of the Church are to be lookt at as members alsoe, though as it they have not been received to y^e lords supper) soe both himselfe & y^e other elders doe still look at them

soe to be & therefore not to be thought by any y^t it is forgotten or their minds Changed but doe look at such Children whose parents on or both who are in Covenant wth y^e Church y^t ther Children are members alsoe :

2 Secondly his exortation was unto the breatheren & sisters of the Church that they would mind it & make Conscience of p^rforming y^t duty of watchfulnes & exortation or Consolation or rep^rhention unto such Children according as ther adge & Capassety did requier or would admite off

3 Thirdly his exortation was unto such Children of y^e Church that they would soe look at themselves as to expect y^e benifite & p^rveledge of Church watchfulnes & that they would soe Carry themselves as such as must give an account in case of defect according as ther adge or Capassety would p^rmitt

after he had ended his spech then both y^e rulling elders stood up first thone & then y^e other & seconded what M^r Mather had said: & said y^t it was ther mind alsoe & that they did not dissent from any thing y^t o^r teacher had at this time spoken.

The 10th of y^e (4) 60

This day it was commended to o^r Church amongst y^e others of this Jurisdiction from the generall Court of a publicke day of Humilliation to be kept by all y^e Congregations in this Collony in y^e behalfe of o^r Native Cuntry y^e great fears of troubles breaking forth ther & y^e distractions y^e are amongst them as also in regard of o^r selves for the rissing gination the day to be kept is the 21 of this instant

June on wth day M^r pelletiah Glover preached in the forenoon out of the 1 Zackery 3

& M^r Mather in y^e afternoon out of the 21 Ezekell 27

The 15 of y^e (5) 60 at y^e motion of y^e Church of Tanton by ther letter ther was Chosen M^r Mather & M^r Withington (as messengers of this church) for to goe to Tanton together wth y^e messengers of y^e Church of Boston & Waymouth for to heer y^e difference y^e is between them & M^r Street & to help them by ther Counsell & advise: y^e day of meeting to be y^e 25 of this Instant

Alsoe y^e day above said y^e Church was put in mind (by y^e elders) of ther slacknes in coming to y^e Contribution & discharging ther nots to y^e Deakons

The 29 (5) 60 M^r Mather & M^r Withington who weer y^e Churches messengers to Tanton retorned their message namely y^e y^e offences between both p^tys weer heard and discussed a comfortable esew obtained through y^e blessing of god: and thanks was retorned unto this Church for sending help unto them

The 26 (6) 60

Rogger Sumner was this day dismissed from this church y^t he might wth other Christians at Langchester Joyne together for y^e beginning of a Church ther:

The 9 (7) 60

This day after the evening exersis y^e Church being desired to stay M^r Mather made report to y^e Church of y^e greate desier of the wife of James Minot to have her Children baptized though as yet they neither she nor her husband weer Judged meet to Come to y^e lords table; to wth end they had both of them p^mised m^r Mather y^t they would publikly owne and take hold of ther fathers Covenant

To this divers of y^e Church shewed their Consent but some weer unsatisfied & therefore it was defered untill y^e next lords day being

16 (7) 60 the 16 of this instant; but yet y^e same breatheren weer unsatisfied & deferred until

30 (7): 60 a fortnight after & then y^e question was more fully discoursed but not concluded

7 (8) 60 The 7th of y^e 8th M^o 1660 after y^e exercis Elder withington stood up before y^e Assembly was dismissed & said that some breatheren had been wth them that weeke & told them y^t they ap^hended m^r Mathers Arguments for baptizing of such children formerly spoken off was not it [yet] answered & therefore desired y^t it might be now spoken unto at this time: on of y^e arguments being thus framed

Arguments for y^e baptizing of such Children whos parents are not yet admitted to full communion at y^e lords table but yet are Judged members & have taken hold of ther fathers Covenant

They y^t weer once members of y^e Church & weer never Cut off; they remaine members still: and soe it is wth thos parents who doe desier baptizme for ther Children they weer once members when they weer infants, else they should not have been baptized, and they weer never cut off, for if they be cut off it must be either by death, or excommunication, or if y^e Church doe sease to be a Church, then a member surviving cannot remaine to be a member because the Church is extinct & is not in being: And some doe add this that they may loos ther

membership by apostasy & wilfull rending themselves off from y^e Church but none of thes have cut off thes from being members wth doe desier baptizme for ther Children, and therefore being members they should have baptizme for ther Children to be a seal unto y^e Covenant

Another Argument

If such parents weer members of y^e Church in y^e old testament, & ther Children weer cercomsised then such parents are members of y^e Church in y^e new testament & ther Children should be baptized

Another Argument

If y^e Church in y^e old & new testament, for essence & substance be y^e same, & if all y^e alterations be for y^e better, then it remains as have ben said but y^e Church then & now is for kind the same y^e gentells are fellow ayers of y^e same body & they are grafted upon y^e same olive:

And for alterations ther are many but still for y^e better as in heb: 7 & 8 Chapters a better Covenant as for instance then they must be Cercomsised w^{ch} was both shamefull & painefull, but baptisme is neither.

againc cercomsission was only on y^e malls, but baptisme is for women alsoe

they weer limetted to y^e 8th day but wth us any day

And soe for y^e passover it was but once a year but o^r lords supper is very often: againc y^e pasover was upon a p^rsize day but we are not tyed to that:

they had many shaddows & tips & burdens, but thes are removed my yoke is essy saith christ:

ther shaddows weer dark & obscure but now y^e vaille is removed.

then it was to on people only but now to all nations

then all must goe to Jerusalem but now on Congregation have supremacy of Jurisdiction wthin it selfe: so y^t all is for y^e better

but if then they may be cercomsized but now must not be baptized then it is for y^e worse

Thes things & such like weer discursed that evening y^e 7 of y^e 8 M^o: 60: but nothing fully concluded: though thes arguments unto some weer not answered to ther ap^hention: & some weer still unsatisfied:

The 4th of y^e (9) 60 was old M^r Glover & Habbukkock her Sonne dismissed unto y^e old Church at Boston, as alsoe Nathaniell Walls and Susan his wife weer dismissed at y^e same time to y^e same Church

The 9th of y^e (10) 60 M^r Mather made a motion to y^e Church and Congregation of keeping a day of humilliation on y^e behalfe of o^r selves & o^r native Cuntry viz to repent of o^r sinne w^{ch} may p^rvoke y^e lord to take a way or to deny us those libertys & p^rveledges w^{ch} we have injoyed thes many years in Church & Common wealth And for o^r native Cuntry the king being returned againc in pease wthout y^e effusion of blod: for w^{ch} peace of theirs as we have cause to bless god for it, soe we should pray y^t ther peace may be continued & y^t y^e hurtfull sword may not be awakened againc if it be his will: Alsoe we should pray on y^e behalf of thos that are in place of rull & government ther in y^t land y^t y^e lord would

rull & sway ther harts y^t they may favour y^e Cause of Christ & p^romote y^e gosple: the day thought upon was the next lectuer day wth is y^e 11th of this instant to y^e wth y^e Church & asembly consented by ther silence

The former p^t of y^e day M^r Mather did pray & preach out of y^e 1 Tim 2: 1: 2:

The 27 (11) 60 prudence Clap (who married wth Simon peck) was dismissed unto the Church of Hingham

The 3 (12) 60 Aron way and his wife & William Ireland weer dismissed unto y^e new Church at Boston

The 10 (12) 60 M^r Mather acquainted the Church & Congregation y^t y^e elders had latly a meeting to Consider of something y^t they thought god called us unto in thes times & ther conclusion was y^t they would p^rpose it to ther severall congregations whether it weer not meet to keep a sollemne day of humilliation unto y^e lord in all the Churches heer abouts the grounds of it weer such as thes viz

ffirst y^e generall sickneses y^t have been latly amongst us & yet are in some places 2 to intreat y^e lord for y^e Continuance of o^r peace & libertys in Church & Common wealthe and y^t thos addresses which have been latly made by y^e generall Court unto the higher powers in England that they may find acceptance: the day mentioned was the last 4th day of this instant wth would be y^e 27th day of y^e month it was consented unto by o^r Congregation

The day above said after y^e evening exersiz the Church was desiered to stay y^e Reason was (as y^e Elder did declare) because ther weer severall yong men in the Towne who would be willing to Joyne to y^e Church if they might have ther Confession taken in privat by wrighting & declared publickly to y^e Church, they standing forth & owneing what was declared, and ther engageing themselves in y^e Covenant. upon this ther was some debate & divers did declare themselves willing that it should be soe practized but on or two of y^e breatheren declared themselves to y^e Contrary. in Conclusion the matter was left to a farther Consideration & then to be spoken too againe.

The 19 of y^e (12) 64

Mr Mather gave an account of what was done at Waymouth uppon y^e 14 of this Instant viz y^e y^e fore p^t of y^e day was spent in praying & preaching by M^r Torry in y^e latter p^t of y^e day mr Thecher did pray & afterward (wth y^e Consent of that Church and y^e messengers w^{ch} came thither) Mr Torry accepting therof he was ordained pastor unto that Church Mr Wilson of Boston & M^r Thecher & ther rulling elder laying on ther hands & afterward Mr Wilson in y^e name of y^e rest of y^e churches gave unto him the right hand of fellowship & did owne him & acknowlige M^r Torry to be pastor to that Church at Waymouth:

man able to make a publick relation by his owne mouth they should endeavor to p^oswad him soe to doe

Alsoe y^e same day M^r Withington did declare to y^e Church y^t (he being formerly appointed (wth y^e other elders) for to seat people in y^e seats of y^e meeting hous) he was not willing to doe y^t worke any longer but was resolved to lay it down y^e other elders not acting in that thing wth himself but left it to him only

The 9 (2) 65 Deacon Wiswall being p^rsent, y^e question was p^rposed to him by y^e Elder whether hee would or Could attend uppon his office of a Deacon or whether he would leave y^e office unto another whom y^e Church should Chouse: his answer was that hee was called to that office, off god & by y^e Church & therefore if y^e Church did see cause to displace him they might but for his resigning y^e office he did not see Cause soe to doe & soe y^e matter was left at y^e time after some more agetations

At a Councell held at Boston the 12 feeb 1676

As we must hold o' selves ever obliged to an humble & harty acknnowledgment of y^e many mercyfull & Marvellous outgoings of god for us, his undeserveing people, inhabetting this wildernes, and more especially of his late Signall appearances on our side against bloody & barbarous men that rose up against us; wherin he hath out acted o' faith and Expectation: soe we are noe less in duty bound to reflect wth shame & sorrow upon o' unbecoming deportments toward y^e lord and ill requitals of him, after all his kindnesses. the prid, y^e worldlynes, the sensuallitie of many p'fessors, the contempt of y^e gosple, the defection and apostacy of some from y^e truth to p'nicious heresies, the decay of brotherly love, y^e unthankfulnes for mercys, the deafnes to y^e rod of divine appointment, the abus of p'cious peace & libertie, and the too generall unsubdewednes of y^e harts of men to the will of god, with such like evels, found among us (beside the gross ignorance & growing p'fanes of too many p'sons under rich means of knowledg & reformation) doe proclaime aloud our litle profitting & p'ficiency under gods hand and breeding, our unfruitfulnes under the variose instructing dispensations of god; yea, and sadly testefie to o' faces, y^t we have not been throughly melted, and won by mercies, nor kindly affected with, & reformed by y^e Judgments of y^e lord: and that, (what ever our vows have been, in y^e day of o' distress, yet,) our old tast in great measure remains in us, & our sent is litle Changed; though we have been emptied from vessell to vessell, and changes & warr have ben against us. well may we fear another storme of wrath, and that y^e Just & holy god will punesh us seaven times for our many & greivous p'vokations: unles we p'pare our selves to meet our god with humiliation, supplication, & reformation; and timously make o' peace wth him through y^e blood of o' lord Jesus Christ. Moreover, as we have had experience of y^e Lords heering o' prayers, & being a p'sent, ready help to us (though most unworthy) in all our troubles: Soe it cannot be denyed or doubted, but that we have as much need of his help & grace now as ever, and that it is o' wisdom & duty at this day, to set o' selves to seek y^e lord, and to become humble petitioners at y^e throwne of grace to the father of mercys, that he would graciously pleas to pardon & purge away our sins, and avert the judgments we have deserved, for his names sake; that he would Continue peace & truth with all the precieuse & pleasant things of Jerusalem unto us, and give us one hart & way to feare him for the good of o^r selves & Children after us; that he would Vouchsafe his gracious presence with his servants that are entrusted with the management of publick affaires, and p'ticularly, with thos worthy p'sons, our messengers, in their Negotiations, that they may find favor with the kings Majestie, and prosper in that important undertakeing: that he would infattuate y^e Counsels, defeate y^e designes, and Restraine the remainder of y^e Cursed & cruell wrath of ye heathen, that are yet in hostilley with us; that hee would goe along with our forces in the present expedition; that he would build the wast places, Repaire the breaches made upon us, and settle a suer & lasting peace in o^r borders; that he would smile upon the labours of his servants, bless y^e springing & fruts of y^e earth, and Crowne the yere with his goodnes; that he would Cause Zebulon to rejoyce in his going out, & Isachar in his tents; that he would be a wale of fier about us, & y^e glory in y^e midst of us, that he would save & bless his Churches abroad, support & enlarge the intrest of Christ in the world

It is therefore ordered by y^e Governour & Councill of this Jurisdiction that thursday; the first day of March next ensuing, be set apart for a day of humilliation, fasting & prayer, throughout this Collony: and all p'sons in ther severall Capacities are requiered to forbear y^e works of their ordinary Callings, & apply themselves to y^e Relidgiouse & Sollemn observation of that day, that it may be indeed a day of Attonement, & not of new & further provokation

The Good LORD prosper their Undertakings for His own Glory & the Good of Souls, for the Lord Jesus Christs Sake. Amen.

March. 22. The Church was acquainted with an Ord^r from the Hon^{ble} y^e Leiftenant Governo^r & Commander in Chief, Councill & Representatives or Assembly Sollemnly to Set apart Aprill y^e second for pray^r with fasting before y^e God of Heaven to bewayle o^r Iniquitys & to Implore His Mercys to pray that He would direct p^rserve & succeed y^e King in His hazzardous Enterprises, Defeat enemys, Smile on all o^r publick interests & Changes, blesse our husbandry, become o^r Defence & advance the Kingdom of Christ throughout y^e World.

The Same 22^d of March was read a Lett^r from y^e C^h of Medfeild desiring Elders & Messeng^r to assist in Councill there on Aprill y^e Seaventh next, to Endeavor to hear & heal some differences among them occasioned by the Aversion of some of y^e Children of y^e Church headed by 2 or 3 brethren to y^e Proceedings of y^e Church in Calling m^r Baxter to be their Pastor.

The Church consented that Capt. Clap should assist as a Messeng^r in that service wth y^r Pastor.

1696 Aprill 2 was kept as was Appointed & there was contributed for the Poor 3^{li}.

Aprill. 12. The Church were acquainted that their messeng^r met together with those of 2 Churches more and after a full hearing on both sides found of all y^e Inhabitants y^t voted viz^t 60 in all — fifty & odde of them to have voted for m^r Baxter — & of the Church being but 25 Brethren 20 or 21 of them to have been & still to be for m^r Baxter.

That y^e Church had acted very leizurely & Condescendingly The opposing party very preposterously and their reasons for y^e removall of m^r Baxter Some of them Silly & unreasonable & some of them Ungodly & Pernicious & accordingly the Councill bore Testimony against them from y^e word of God.

M. one reason was y^t He was but a young man another was that He had not so loud a voice as some others (Yet it could be heard in most congregations —

another reason was because some that had turnd away m^r Thomson deserved to be requited with the turning away of m^r Baxter (wretched revenge!) & another Reason was because two or three (or four at most) of the Church at the head of a Small number of y^e Inhabitants of the Town said they were dissatisfyed with his Guifts and Could rather take up with Some other Person and therefore appeared without any cogent reasons but their own wills to oppose y^e Church & Towne & m^r Baxter — A very ill president to oth^r Churches.

For the light of nature shows that the majority Should Sway Acts. 27. 11, 12. And the Apostles settled Elders in Churches by the major votes of such Churches (manifested by lifting up of hands (keirotonesen) e i in the presence & by the order of the Apostles) Acts. 14. 23.

And to head a party against the Church is Criminnall Rom. 16. 17. Gal. 5. 12. Heb. 12. 15. James 3. 14-16.

And what have they to doe to discern the Guifts & Spirits of Ministers & prophets [(subject rather to y^e Prophets 1 Cor. 14. 32 The Guifts being given to y^e Church)] that pretend not to be able to examine & prove themselves & discern the Lords body, nor have been approved of the Church, to be of age, wisdom & grace sufficient to qualify them to Vote, for even the Child, tho^b an heir differs not in this Point from a Servant while under age, to allude to y^e Apostles words.

In hearing the Case the Councill determined also that a Single honest Man — or a Party of men might be allowed as Witnesses sometimes in their own Case — according to Matt. 18. 16. Se also Joh. 8. 13, 14, 17, 18 for y^e taking one or two more mak 2 or 3 witnesses.

June y^e 5th. 1696. The Church met on y^e 6th day of y^e week as was appointed before. And after Sollemn Invocation of y^e Name of God — & sufficient debates they Voted Clearly & fully & as far as we could se: unanimously

1. To Comply with the Advice of y^e Assembly of y^e Generallty of y^e Ministers mett at y^e late Anniversary of y^e Election & y^e day aft^r it, To See to it y^t y^e Intervalls of Publick Exercises at Noons on y^e Lords days be not profaned but well Improved in Pray^r readings repeatings &c, by Such as

Stay in ye Meetinghouse. Voted by Lifting up of hands unanimously and that such as go not to Godly homes attend here dilligently.

2. That Deacon Topliffe, Deacon Clap, Capt. Clap, Leift. Tilestone, Serjeant Wiswall, Broth^r Peirce, Brother White Broth^r Leeds Bro^r Leadbett^r Brⁿ: Eph: & Samuel Payson Broth^r Dan: Preston, Bro^r: James Blake, Broth^r Roger Billinge, with oth^r Brethren, be Desired to take y^r Turns & be directed by y^e Ruling Elder what Turns to take in this Good work. Voted by Silence.

3. That Such as Lye und^r Church Censure be written unto by y^e Elders in y^e behalf of y^e Whole Church, That their Crimes may be laid open before them for their furth^r Conviction, and an Inquiry made what Effect y^e ordinance of Excommunication hath had upon Them &c. & y^e Report of their Answ^rs be made to y^e Church

m. John Spur Dan:
Ellen: Nath: Wyat:
& Content Maan are under Excommunication.

4 That y^e Elders Should Signify, to y^e Generall Court or Assembly, & to y^e County Court y^t this Church apprehends one Tavⁿ besides m^r Billinges & m^r Whites to be Enough for Dorchest^r, & to Advise y^m with Arguments, y^t we may be Stinted accordingly & y^t none but p^rsons of approved Integrity may be licensed.

M The County Court graunted y^e Petition next term

The Same Day Sist^r Patten formerly Lawrence Made Confession of Slandring Broth^r Hix for Perjury & Lyes: casting contempt on y^e ordinance of private Dealing by the s^d Hix & y^e 2 brethren, & Reflecting words & writings, to y^e Elders & Her often indulging y^e Corruptions & passions of Her Evill heart & y^e Evill Language of Her hasty tongue &c— & it was to Satisfaction of y^e Church.

Item y^e Same day Sist^r Chaplain was called before y^e Church, & Questioned for y^e Sin of Lying again & again & off taking a false Oath before Justice Saffin. The Summe of y^e Case was thus laid before y^e Chh. One John Green alias Mores Glasseland Lent y^m 6 pounds, & quickly after went to Rehoboth & Dyed. Tho^r. Way a Boaston (or Boat-swain) y^e Execut^r of His Will brings y^m before Justice Saffin on Examination about this 6th:

{ witsesse Tho: Birch Constable }
{ Item Justice Saffin Himself }

They purge y^mselves of all moneys & Estate of s^d Greens given or lent y^m or Theirs, by oath,—

(witnesses y^e Copy of y^e oath — attested)

Two witnesses Coming in against Them viz W^m Behoe & Stephen Squire, Swearing y^t Said Chaplain bid y^m bear witness He had [borrowed] s^d 6^{li} or 20 pieces of Eight, of Said Green pointing to y^e Man, Said Chaplain was Indicted or brought before y^e Grand Jury for Perjury.

The Grandjury find IGNORAMUS. (witnesses y^e Copies of y^e Evidences & Court Records.)

Ensign Tho^r: Woodcock Testifys He was there at y^e Same Time with y^e other witnesses & heard W^m Chaplain bid y^m bear witness y^t He had borrowd s^d 6^{li} of Said Green pointing to y^e Man. Item y^t y^e said woodcock discoursing with Sister Chaplin about it in Aprill 1695. She Said to Him y^t Upon Her Complaints to said Green — & Her opportunity of a bargain of wines — He offered to lend y^m Monys — & Let y^m have 6 pounds, &c —

(See y^e Testimony itself)

Sister Chaplain affirmed before y^e Church y^t she knew (within 24 hours y^t y^e Mony was deposited) (long before She took y^e oath) y^t y^e Said Six pound was freely Given by Said Green to Her daughter Mehetabell. That 'Twas a Guift to Mehetabel. She also had from Time to time affirmed unto Deacon Samuel Fish^r of Rentham Thomas Skinn^r Senior, (Witnesses y^e Testimonys)

But that 'twas given to Sister Chaplin herself She affirmed to Benjamin Palm^r of Rhode Island & at one time to Ensign Tho^r: Woodcock & His wife, & at times to Ebenezer Billinge — & to His Wife — (witnesses y^r Sev^rall Testimonys which expresse different Reasons of its being given Her &c)

Sister Chaplin Said She Remembred not that she Said such things to Palm^r, Woodcocke, Billinge — &, as for y^e Oath, when M^r Saffin putt it upon Her She added [& more mony,] (intimating y^t some mony was given to Mehetabell but not expressing)

It was Proposed to y^e Chh & Congregation & to m^r Kent of Swanzy one of y^e affores^d Grandjury particularly, y^t if they had ought to Object Why y^e Church Should not believe & take & proceed upon the abovenamed Evidences, that they should speak.

No Objection being then offered but a great Silence: (& some of y^e Brethren speaking well of Some of y^e witnesses y^t were known to Them,) The Church Voted that they believed those witnesses to speak true & would take their Evidence. Again they Voted & publickly Unanimously Manifested that they Judged Sister Chaplin to have been guilty of much falsehood & lying in Her Narratives & y^e accounts she has given to one & to anothe^r of this matt^r, & also of y^e Sin of perjury or taking a false Oath. And she still persisting in Her way notwithstanding what was spoken for Her Conviction — The Church voted y^t she should be Admonished in order to Excommunication which was instantly done accordingly.

[NOTE. This is the close of the regular records of proceedings. After fifteen blank leaves we find this entry, pencilled in a bold hand :

Tho : Jordan
Olive Corbin
15. 3. 1706.

Turning the book over, and looking at the top of what now becomes the first page (or fly-leaf), we find the following entries, which, though unofficial, were probably recorded by one of the very early clerks. The edges of the page are badly torn.

[. . . .] 94. Elder george [Minot] [. . . .] 1597. M^{rs} Martha Minot His [. . . .]
[. . . .] 1626. Their Son m^r John Min [. . . .]

1. 5^m. 1701. The Hon^{ble} W^m Stoughton Lt Gov:
Died [. . . .]
anno Aeta [. . . .]

Proceeding now to the third folio, we find records which were plainly begun when the volume was first used, but were made at this end of the book to separate them from the records of proceedings. It will be borne in mind that they are contemporaneous with those records, from point to point.

N.B. There are numerous interpolations, in the way of personal and historical explanations, in a hand notably different from that of the regular entries. As their matter is very important, and apparently trustworthy, and seems to the copyist to be largely the work of one of the pastors, Rev. John Danforth, it is given. But it is put in parenthesis to distinguish it from the official text.

The Greater Part of the first Church in Dorchester Removed with m^r Warham to Windsor: So that they Gatherd a New Church, over whom the Rev.^d m^r Mather was Ordained Teacher.

Richard Mather. Anagram. A Third Charmer.
Third in New England—Dorchester,
Was this Ordained Minister.

Second to None, for Fruitfulness,
Abilities, & Usefulness;

Divine his charms, years Seven times Seven,
Wise to Win Souls from Earth for Heaven.

Prophets Rewards He Gains above:
But Great's our Losse by His Remove.

Epi

Sacred to God, His Servant Richard Mather
Sons like Him, Good & Great, did call Him Father, Hard to Discern a Difference in degree
'Twixt His bright Learning & High Pietie
Short Time, His Sleeping Dust lies covered down
So can't His Soul or His Deserv'd Renown.

From's Birth Six Lustres & a Jubile,
To His Repose: But Labour'd hard in Thee
(O Dorchester!) Four more than thirty years,
His Sacred Dust with Thee, Thine Honour rears.

The Deacons Ordination = Charge

May. 3. 1724.

The Glorious King of the Church (& world) the SON of GOD, our LORD JESUS CHRIST Instituted the holy office of Deaconship, by Inspiration to His Apostles, in the Primitive Church: and appointed that even the Gentile-Churches should have Men (Qualified as He has 'specially Directed,) Chosen unto, & Invested with the Said Office. Acts. 6. 3-6. 1 Tim. 3. 8, 9.

Although the office of Deaconship is Ecclesiastical & Sacred, Yet 'tis Specificated & Limited unto the Temporal Good Things of the Church, which are offered & dedicated unto the Honour & Service of God, for the Uses of Piety & Charity.

And whosoever are Appointed to this office are to be Helps to y^e Elders & to the whole Church. 1 Cor. 12. 28.

Of the Churches Outward Treasure; of all Offerings and Gifts (given to the Church for the Supply of outward needs the Care & Management belongs to the Deacons; & therewith the Deacons are to Serve y^e Tables, which the Church is to Provide for, (saith our Synod Book, call'd y^e Platform) as Namely the LORD'S Table, the Table of the ministers of the word of God, And of Such as are in Necessity: To whom they are to Distribute in Simplicity, or Singleness of Heart.

Ordination is the Solemn Comitting of office — Ecclesiastical unto Persons to whom that office doth belong; the solemn putting of them into the actual Possession of that Place, Station, Dignity, Trust & Charge in the Church of GOD that they were Chosen to & had Accepted of.

And Ordination is Performed by Laying on the Hands of the Eldership, with Solemn Prayer to GOD in CHRIST, In which Prayer, the Persons on whom the Said Hands are Laid are Solemnly offerd up to GOD in CHRIST, for that office & Service that they are Called unto; and the LORD is earnestly Implored & besought to Accept of Them; and to Assist them, and to make them Blessings therein. Thus by Prayer & laying on of their hands, the Apostles solemnly Installed into the Sacred = office of Deaconship, the first Deacons of the Primitive Church wherefore

Wherefore the Church of CHRIST in this Place (viz the Elders, Deacons & Fraternity of Fullcommunicants,) having Chosen You, our Dear Brethren M^r Hopestill Clap & m^r Nathanael Topliff, on whom we have now Laid our Hands & Prayed, into the office of Deaconship among them, and you having Accepted thereof . . .

We do in the Name of our LORD Jesus CHRIST, The Glorious Head of the Church in Heaven & on Earth, Ordain you to be Deacons of this Church, and Putt You into the Possession & Administration of that — holy & honorable Office of Deaconship in which you are to conjoyn that Aged & Honoured Person who Was in that office before You.

And forasmuch as GOD hath set you Up in His Church, not to be Letts, but to be Helps, We Solemnly Charge You to watch, & to Pray, & to Labour all that You can, that You may . . . Promote & Further all Religion & Vertue & Charity & Peace & Beneficence among Us; And Up-rightly, & Prudently, & Faithfully, & with Great Humility, & yet with liberty & holy Courage, & without Fear, and without Partiality, & in Singleness of Heart, as towards GOD, Discharge (not only every Part of your work as Christians, But also) every Part of Your Office as Deacons;—accountably to God & OUR LORD JESUS XT and to your own Consciencs, & to the Elders & to the Church;

(by the help of CHRIST;)

And we Assure You (for your Comfort,) that so Using & Discharging the office of Deaconship well, by the Grace & Help of Your Glorious LORD & Ours, You Will (tho' without any proper merit of your own, yet of Gods . . . Infinite Mercy) Purchase or gain or obtain to yourselves a good degree and Great Boldnesse in the Faith. 1 Tim. 3. 13. and when the Great Shepherd shall appear, You shall Receive a Crown of Glory that fadeth not away.

..... Amen.
